

horse theft. McWeeny promised Murphy job.

Washington. — William Wallace Corrie, Los Angeles, and John C. Kestow, San Francisco, of American cruiser California, reported killed and another sailor wounded in fight with Mexican policemen in Mazatlan.

Detroit.—A. J. Elliott, ex-Northwestern University football star, declares college is winter resort where youths learn to roll cigarettes and graduate into educated crooks.

Boston.—Rev. William B. Ayres, pastor in $25,000 alienation suit by Chester A. Boynton, admitted carrying whisky and ammonia to Mrs. Boynton, but says he did not enter room.

Mexico City.—20 passengers killed, 40 injured in train wreck near Tula when engineer yielded to entreaties of passengers for greater speed to avoid rebels.

New York.—J. A. Thompson and Frank Tarbeaux, reputed members of local wire tapping gang, arrested in Charleston, S. C., on charge of swindling S. R. Jones, Pittsburgh coal operator, out of $20,000 and Col. Pendleton, Atlantic City, out of $55,000.

Washington.—Helen Kelly, 37, first White House crank to bother Wilson, was judged insane.

Cleveland, O.—Tonight is the big night for baseball fans here. Bugs who want a chance to greet Manager Birmingham, Lajoie, Jacobson, and Gregg of the Naps, and Callahan, Bodie, Walsh and Lord of the White Sox, will get a chance at the Central Y. M. C. A., where "open house" will be held. The entire Cleveland and Chicago teams will act as a receiving committee.

—o—o—

"So you want to join our company?" said the theatrical manager to the seedy-looking applicant. "In what pieces have you ever appeared?" "Well," replied he, "my last engagement was with 'The Blot on the Scutcheon.'" "What character did you act?" "I was the Blot."

MRS. PANKHURST RELEASED— MAY BE REJAILED ANY TIME

London, April 12.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, militant suffragette leader, completely exhausted from starvation and unable to stand, was today released from Holloway jail after serving nine days of the three-year prison term imposed upon her for instigating the bomb attack on the country home of Chancellor of the Exchequer David Lloyd-George.

Mrs. Pankhurst has maintained a hunger strike from the moment Justice Lush passed sentence on her until her release. By order of Home Secretary McKenna she was not forcibly fed.

By order of Home Secretary McKenna, the prison authorities made their last effort to overcome Mrs. Pankhurst's defiance last night. They placed a savory roast of beef and steaming vegetables where the odor would tantalize the starving woman, but she merely sniffed once, turned over on her cot and paid no further attention to the ruse.

Upon her release she was received at the jail entrance by suffragets from W. S. P. U. headquarters and taken in an ambulance to a private hospital. While she is completely prostrated, her condition is not regarded as precarious, as is the case of Miss Sylvia Pankhurst and Miss Zelle Emerson, who were forcibly fed.

Mrs. Pankhurst's present liberty does not mean that she is a free woman. She still is technically a prisoner. She can be ordered to jail by Home Secretary McKenna at any time.

McKenna will only wait until she has recovered sufficiently in health to be able to go back to jail. Then she'll go back.

This process, which is likely to go down in history as Home Secretary McKenna's suffraget ticket-of-leave plan, will be continued until Mrs. Pankhurst has served her three